TORONTO TIDINGS.

We are so delighted to note that Mr. John L. Smith, who had been in rather impaired health for some time past, is getting stronger and gaining in weight. It is pleasing to see him in this way.

Miss Susie Pugsley, who recently came to the city from Cheapside, has been the guest of her brother, Samuel Pugsley, during the past few weeks. She intends going to visit relatives in Dresden soon.

Mr. Colin McLean, of this city, and Miss Elsie McDougall, of South Indian, Ont., were quietly married on October 17th. A full report will appear in your next issue.

Miss Pearl Herman has returned from a pleasant visit of a week with her brother in Belleville and also at her father's home in Stirling. She spent a very happy day with Mrs. Sylvia Balis at her home in Belleville, before returning home on October 9th.

Mr. Oscar Noakes had a close call from serious injury on the morning of October 7th. While on his way home he was run into by an autoist at the corner of Bedford and Davenport Roads and severely shaken up. The driver immediately stopped and picking him up conveyed him to a doctor then to his home. Oscar only received a sprained right arm, it was learned afterwards, but is now O. K.

Quite a few friends here motored out to Weston, on October 9th, and presented our friend, Miss Mildred Hutchins, with many gifts on the occasion of her natal day, much to her surprise and delight. Mildred is doing well at the hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lester Smith observed the fifty-second anniversary of their wedding on October 12th, very quietly at home, 72 Dagmar Avenue. They are still in good spirits and we hope they may be spared for many more years. They are probably the longest married deaf couple in Canada today, and have one great grandchild.

Mr. Walter Bell was home during the week of October 1st to 9th, owing to alterations being made to the plant at Oshawa, where he works. He wife and children were so delighted to have him home.

Miss Freida Ducker and her people have returned home from a most delightful vacation spent in fishing, boating and swimming at that pretty spot of Sturgeon Lake.

Mr. Charles R. Ford, who has been in various parts of the Province since leaving the vortex of this city, came back to our midst on October 7th, and is now working at the Imperial Press office.

The ladies of Old St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, at Gerard and Jarvis Streets, entertained the lady members of our church to an evening social on October 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Roberts accompanied by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Littler, motored out to King, October 8th, where they picked a couple of bags of winter apples in the orchard on the Roberts' property up there, and before leaving Mr. Roberts nailed up the sign, "For Sale," on the lot. They motored through more than sixty miles of beautiful highland country, then in the height of its autumnal glory.

On October 8th, Mr. A. W. Mason with his son, Howard, and daughter-in-law moored out to Cobocun, in the beautiful county of Haliburton, where they spent that week-end with relatives and had a fine time. It involved a drive of over eighty miles.

Mrs. R. C. Slater has returned from a month's sojourn with relatives in Galt. We are glad to say she is keeping on fairly well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott have returned home from a delightful holiday, spent with relatives and friends in Wellandport, Niagara Falls, Dunnville and other parts of the Niagara Peninsula. Billy has resumed his daily routine at the Terminal post office.

The Canadian Girls in Training Society has resumed its activities for the coming season, and at its opening meeting on October 10th, the members decided to stick to Monday as their regular weekly meeting evening. Miss Evelyn Hazlett is the presiding officer. The Rev. Dr. Gunn, M.A., has now succeeded the Rev. A. L. Richards, B.A., as our church moderator. The deaf here have a warm heart for our new church here.

The Bridgen Club held a delightful gathering, on October 7th, when current events were the chief items under discussion and a very jolly time was had. Remember the club's Halloween social on October 29th, so join as a member and share in the fun.

Mr. Gordon Garland, of Tiverton, was down over the week-end of October 8th, and also visited Oshawa. On returning home, he was accompanied by his sister-in-law, Mrs. John Buchanan, who spent a couple of weeks at her old home in and around Tiverton. Since she became a bride last July, Mrs. Buchanan has been making herself solid with all here, due to her quiet disposition and social mien.

We were delighted to receive a visit from Mr. Louis Wellner, of Canaan, Ct., who spent the week of October 10th in this city. He is a strapping young bachelor and a clever conversationalist. He was impressed with this city.

Since coming to this city, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Walker have made many friends and are making more all the time. It's all because they know how. On October 4th, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Huband, of Ottawa, with a party of relatives motored up from the Capital and visited relatives here over night. Next morning they left for Hamilton to attend the wedding of Mr. Huband's brother, the Rev. Allan Huband, of Brantford, to Miss E. C. Morden, of Hamilton. The party again returned to this city in the evening and continued their journey home in the morning of the morrow.

Mrs. Jontie Henderson, of Sarnia, arrived here for a two week's stay at "Mora Glen," on October 10th, and during her stay here was lavishly entertained by her numerous friends, with whom she is a great favorite. While at school in Belleville, many years ago, she was known as Miss Mabel Steele, the oldest of the two beautiful Steele sisters of Delaware, Ont. The other sister, Edith, is now Mrs. Culver B. Bowlby, of Simcoe.

On October 9th, our church was comfortably filled with our friends who gathered there to partake of the Lord's supper. The Rev. Dr. Gunn, D.D., who had charge, gave a very able and convincing address on the meaning of His supper. Mrs. J. R. Byrne interpreted. Mrs. N. Moore recited very acceptably the hymn "This would I do, O Christ, My Lord," before the sermon, and afterwards, Mrs. W. R. Watt signed another beautiful hymn entitled, "To Him that rules in Earth and Heaven, Thanks be given."

Nearly a score of our young friends journeyed out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gordon at Minico, on October 8th, to attend a delightful party in honor of the fifth or wooden anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald O'Brien. The evening was enjoyed in card playing and other games. A symposium repast was served and the young couple of five years of matrimonial bliss were literally showered with gifts.

PALGRAVE PARAGRAPHS

Wilson E. Brown made a business trip to Toronto, on October 10th.

Miss Edna Zimmerman has returned home after a pleasant sojourn of a month with relatives and friends in Holstein, Wingham, Blythe and other parts up that way.

Mr. Wilson E. Brown is engaged for a farmer a present about two miles out from this burg.

STRAFORD STROKES

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Quinlan and daughter motored up to Clinton, on October 2d, and spent the day most auspiciously with John Reynolds and his folks.

Mr. Mack Hoy, of Avonton, was visiting friends around Clinton one recent Sunday.

The little daughter and only child of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Quinlan was awarded one of the prizes for the best five matured children under one year at the baby show, held in connection with the Stratford fair on September 21st. There were about fifty babies entered in this class and little baby Quinlan easily won one of the red ribbon stakes.

Mr. John Trachell motored all the way through from Borden, Sask., to this city, a short time ago, covering a distance of over 2300 miles. He is at present visiting his relatives and old friends in this neighborhood. He formerly lived at Shakespeare, near here, going west about thirty-five years ago, and took a large homestead where he prospered.

Mrs. Alice Leckie has again gone to Detroit, where she has secured a good job, and her absence is felt there. Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson have sold their "Star" car and now sport around in a brand new "Chrysler."

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood McBrien have been visiting in Toronto and the latter's former home in Peterboro. While in the "Queen City," Elwood took in the one hundredth anniversary celebration of the founding of Toronto University, of which he is one of its deaf graduates.

We are pleased to say that the aged mother of Mrs. William Wark, of Wyoming, is much better and resting nicely at her home in Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson, with Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Leckie motored out to Dresden, on October 9th, and spent the day very pleasantly with Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Welch, of Oil City, were also there.

LONDON LEAVES

John Smalldon, of St. Thomas, was in this city, on October 5th, getting his driver's permit, and he got it. Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher motored to Hamilton for the week-end of October 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., and Mr. George Moore motored to Ingersoll, on October 9th, where they spent the day with relatives of the Goulds.

Mr. A. H. Cowan has been promoted to a day position on the British Mail at our local post office and likes it fine.

Several of the deaf here have been paying visits to Mr. Sim. Thompson, who is a patient at Victoria Hospital, where he has been since last May. He is very cheerful and doing well.

Mrs. James Buck, her son and his wife, of Nilestown, motored down to Woodstock to call on relatives on September 25th.

Mr. Merton McMurray, of Thamesford, motored up on October first on business and pleasure bent.

Mrs. E. A. Smith, a deaf-mute and an inmate of the McCormick Home for the Aged, received a slight scalp wound when she was struck by a bicycle. The injured woman was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in the police ambulance.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Middleton, of Horning Mills, were recently in Singhampton calling on John Taylor and looking for help to garner in their bumper potato crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris, of Stamford, the latter a sister of Miss Sylvia Caswell, of Niagara Falls, are home again after a delightful trip to Halifax.

Stanley Young, of Embro, was in Ingersoll, on October 9th. He expects to locate a job in Kitchener soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Middleton, of Horning Mills, were up to Corbetton, on October 10th, visiting the Sherritt family.

The writer desires to thank your Fresno correspondent for the flattering item in the issue of October 6th.

Glad to say that Mr. Roy Bowen, of Nobleton, has recovered from his recent severe illness.

Gallaudet College

Excitement in both Fowler and College Halls rose to fever pitch Wednesday morning, for it was then that we were to get a faint idea as to what the Faculty had decided about the number of social revisions suggested by the student body. With a momentary twinge of disappointment we learned that none of our suggestions were accepted, but our spirits were not so cast down after we discovered that the Faculty was putting into practice the ancient geometric postulate: "Equals can be substituted for equals."

In substance the whole fracas was (1) The students suggested that groups of three couples be permitted to go out unchaperoned to places approved of by the faculty. The Faculty announced that groups could go out with a chaperone to see shows of an educational and beneficial value. (2) The students suggested that, as a possible means of improving the manners of the College Hall men at the dining table, Co-eds be permitted to mingle with the men students at suppers on Sundays. The Faculty did not accept this, stating as their reason the dining rooms were too small to accommodate both the Co-eds and the students, but said that, as an experiment, the men and women students would be permitted to mingle for Thanksgiving Dinner. (Note: The men students, fearing that they would be totally out of practice by then in the exquisite art of handling fork and knife in the presence of ladies voted against it, but in order to see how it felt to dine in the presence of ladies, asked that they be permitted to exercise their skill in table manners for the edification of the Co-eds at supper on Thanksgiving Day. We have yet to hear from the Faculty on that point. (3) We asked for another informal dance a term, thus making it two informal dances and a formal dance a term. They Faculty took our breath away, by announcing that after every Literary Society meeting and lecture, a card-party and an informal dance would be held. And so on to several minor details.

To start the year right, the Juniors took charge of the evening services of Sunday, October 9th, and rendered the following program: Opening Prayer, Miss Della Kittleson; Hymn, "Sun of My Soul," Miss Ida Hanson; Talk, "A World Without God," Mr. H. T. Hofsteater; Hymn, "A Psalm of Life," Mr. Thomas Peterson; Talk, "Sermons in Stones," Mr. David Mudgett; Closing Prayer, Dr. Charles Ely. The collection was given to the Associated Charities of Washington, D. C., to be disposed of among the needy Washington.

The Literary Society held its first public meeting of the year in Chapel Hall, Friday night, October 14th, at 7:30, P.M. The main speaker of the evening was Dr. Percival Hall, who had as the subject of the lecture, "The Deaf and the Law." His talk proved to be an interesting summary of many of the curious laws governing the deaf in the past. It appeared that the Greeks tolerated no deafness among themselves and left deaf children out in the wilderness to perish from hunger or to be eaten up by wild beasts. The Romans were more tolerant, but stressed the importance of the ability to speak as a measure of the men's mentality. Deaf people who could neither write nor read nor speak were placed in the charge of a curator, who looked after them until their deaths. If a deaf man could write, he had more rights in the eyes of the law. He was permitted to transact whatever business that did not require "vocal palaverin'." But a deaf man, who could speak and write, held almost as much privilege as any normal hearing citizen of Rome.

Dr. Hall traced the provisions in French code governing the deaf to the influence of the Roman law, called the Justinian code. The students were very much interested in Dr. Hall's talk and, as a result, feel extremely grateful that we are living in the twentieth century instead of in the Dark Ages. A debate ensued with the bone of contention as: "Resolved, That students having recitation marks of 90 or over in a subject should be exempt from examinations in the same subject." Mr. Thomas Peterson, Negative, defeated Mr. Howard Hofsteater, '29, Affirmative. There were no lesser debaters, as one of them was suddenly picked upon to accompany the football team to Albright College, and there was absolutely no time in which to coach a substitute. An amusing dialogue, "At the Olive," with Mr. Glen Gallagher, '29, and Mr. Einer Rosenkjar, '31, was the next feature on the bill. Mr. Charles Joselow, '30, rendered with a charge of emotion "Casabianca." Then came the heartbreaking phase of the meeting, the report of the evening's Critic, Mr. William Landry, '28, who proved to be impartial in his constructive fault-finding.

Now, little Jack Horners, dig your thumbs deep and bring out the biggest plum—

GALLAUDET PUT UP THRILLING FIGHT

Imagine a team with a line composed of Byouks, including a bone-crusher of 230—250 pounds, with a backfield of huskies a bit taller and each one a star in his own line. A great team, isn't that? That is exactly what Gallaudet was up against Saturday, October 15, when we invaded Albright College's gridiron in Myerstown, Pennsylvania. The battle, replete with thrills, terminated in a score of 29 to 7 in favor of the home team.

For the first quarter, the light Gallaudetians surprised everybody by spoiling many of the home team's plays, and the best the Albright gridders could do in this period was to boot a placement kick from the 20-yard line. They got going in the second quarter and, grinding down the field, scored twice, failing once to toe the ball for an additional count.

After a curtain lecture in the dressing room by Assistant Coach Krug, the Buff and Blue gridders displayed a vast improvement on the offensive. Dyer, Gallaudet half-back, scored the only touchdown of that period, after receiving a pass which netted 35 yards and dashing around left end to place the ball behind the goal-line.

The second half was sensational for its long runs. Sheridan, Albright fullback, received the ball on he kick-off and sprinted 85 yards to be downed within only a few yards of the goal-line. Sheer weight and plunging carried the ball over. Albright kicked and scrimmage began on Gallaudet's ten-yard line. Dyer tore through and danced down the field for a brilliant 75-yard run. Reins, Gallaudet's 190-pound guard, thundered behind the tiny Dyer and blocked Garrett, Albright quarterback. Garrett got up and sprinted down a little farther, but Reins downed him again. For the second time Garrett scrambled up and flew after Dyer, but the adamant Reins was not to be balked so easily as that. Keeping pace of him, Reins threw his huge bulk in Garrett's way for the third time and down they went. Garrett sprang up and, catching up with Dyer, dragged him down a scant 5 yards from the goal-line. Gallaudet lost the ball on downs, Albright's massive line proving to be an effective barrier.

On the whole Gallaudet played twice as good as they did the previous Saturday against St. John's of Annapolis. It is now not so hard to speculate as to the showing we will make next Saturday against Temple University in Philadelphia as it was before the Albright game.

"INCOMPETENT DRIVERS."

In the Ohio State Journal (Columbus), under the date of September 27th, was an editorial on the above named heading. The following is an excerpt, which shows that the man who wrote the editorial must be ignorant of our class of people:

"News stories from Toledo told recently of a grade crossing accident in which a man, his wife and their child lost their lives. In that accident an entire family was destroyed. The strange feature of the story was that the man and woman were deaf. The train engineer had sounded the loud whistle, sounded it repeatedly as the auto continued to draw near the crossing, but affliction made it impossible for the driver to hear the urgent warning. They failed to look; they could not listen, they lost their lives."

"Repeatedly the State has heard discussion of an auto driver's license law, designed to prevent just such accidents as that near Toledo. The deaf man would have been rejected had he sought license, for the reason that he could not contribute his share of caution and care in driving a car on the highway. To refuse a license would have been kindness to him, he never should have tried to drive a car. The loss of three lives makes plain the danger when he did drive."

Since the publication of the unjust notice, there has been much criticism among our people and their hearing friends. In later issues of the same paper were seen several letters to the editor, congratulating and condemning him. Here are two replies, which we believe will alter the editor's beliefs and affirm "seeing is better than hearing."

CAREFUL DEAF DRIVERS.

EDITOR OHIO STATE JOURNAL:—To most of your editorials, I say "amen," but I cannot agree with the one about "Incompetent Drivers" of September 27—not but that the roads are full of such but that you very unjustly class all deaf drivers as such.

I have been associated with the deaf for many years and know that their capabilities are often misjudged by the general public. True, the accident to which you referred was a terrible one, but are not such accidents happening almost weekly among the hearing drivers?

In Columbus and nearby towns, there are many deaf drivers, perhaps more than you realize because you never hear of them having accidents. Take a look at our police records and note how many of these deaf drivers have ever been haled to court for violations of our traffic laws or for accidents. Nearly a half hundred speeders were arrested here in one day and not one deaf driver was among them. How often have you heard of a deaf driver knocking down a little child, maiming it for life or killing it outright? Yet hearing people are doing this daily.

The deaf drivers do sometimes meet with accidents but not because they are deaf, but because they are careless like many hearing drivers. I have sat with many deaf drivers, riding through the downtown traffic and on the highways and have never once seen a near-accident. They are always very careful to obey all traffic regulations.

As a rule, the deaf favor a drivers' license law, if in the test for the same they are given a chance to show their ability to drive. There are hundreds of deaf drivers in Ohio and it is so seldom that one has an accident that when one does, it is broadcasted all over the country and then the hearing people declare no deaf person should be allowed to drive a car. Ask our city policemen how much trouble our numerous deaf drivers have given them and they will tell you, I think, that they have had almost no trouble from them. I believe if you ask Dr. Jones of the School for the Deaf for his opinion on the subject, he will you the deaf as a class are good, careful drivers.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 28.

DEAF DRIVERS.

EDITOR OHIO STATE JOURNAL:—Your editorial on "Incompetent Drivers" in the morning State Journal, September 27th, pertaining to deaf drivers, is open to some comment. My knowledge of deaf automobile drivers extends back to the time mobile drivers extends back to the time when the automobile first came into use. I am not a deaf person, but I have ridden with both deaf and hearing drivers. The accident referred to is one of three occurring in Ohio, which I can recall, in which a deaf driver has been killed. Certainly, a remarkable record!

The incident referred to is tragic indeed, but it was not due to the fact of his deafness, but rather to the fact that he was not paying attention at that crossing. How many accidents and how many deaths have resulted to hearing people who have not paid attention to the warnings of lights, bells and signs? Is it fair to use this one incident as an argument against deaf drivers as a class, in the face of overwhelming evidence of carelessness on the part of hearing drivers? The daily papers are full of such accidents, yet this one by a deaf man calls out your condemnation of a whole class and suggests depriving them of the right to drive automobiles.

The deaf have had a negligible number of accidents while driving, for their eyes are keen and trained to a sharpness little understood by hearing people, and they do contribute their full share of caution and care in driving cars on the highways.

Is it possible in an examination for a driver's license to ascertain whether every driver under every circumstance will be attentive to danger signals? Licensing of drivers is for the purpose of insuring safe driving—a good driver does not depend upon his hearing to the same extent that he does upon his well-trained eyesight, having had to depend upon it to such an extent all their lives. In any discussion of the disbarment of deaf drivers this fact should be given the attention it deserves.

MARY G. THOMAS.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 29.

God bless the ladies for their loyalty to the deaf. The writer of this has never been an owner of any velocipede, bicycle, motorcycle, automobile, even horse, and probably never will have an aeroplane, and he is heartily for the rights of the deaf.

Columbus, O., Oct. 3d.

The Capital City

After several months absence from this column, Jen and Bob are now staging a try at a "come back." Investigation of one body or another in some laboratory found the startling fact that when the thermometer goes above seventy-five degrees, a person's physical and mental powers begin to decline. That is the excuse the writers put up for their absence.

The summer of 1927 has been marked with two deaths, the passing away of Mr. Ferdando Harrison and Mrs. Ernest Glison (nee Anthony). Both deaths are losses to the Capital City.

Social season started September 21st with a business meeting of the Literary Society. Election of officers were in order and results as follows:—President, W. Edington re-elected; Vice-president, Mrs. R. Stewart re-elected; Secretary, Jennie Jones re-elected.

Church services have again been resumed at St. Barnabas Mission, 3d and A. Street, Southeast, with their new minister, Rev. H. I. Tracy officiating. Services are held every first and third Sundays of the month at above mentioned place and 3 P.M. is the time.

Calvary Baptist Church services started September 11th, after Rev. A. D. Bryant came back to Washington from his vacation, which he spent at Sea Gale City, New Jersey. Services are held at above church 8th and H. Street, Northwest, every Sunday evening at 8.

Many of the deaf of Washington availed themselves of the opportunity to see the "Fair of the Iron Horse," held in Halethorpe, Maryland, about five miles out of Baltimore. The B. and O. Railroad, which is responsible for this affair, have been running excursion trains to and from this places at a cost of a dollar a round trip.

The Washington Division No. 46, will hold a social in the Northeast Masonic Temple, October 22d, at 7:30 P.M. Admission twenty cents—children under twelve free! This social is to be innovation—the committee calls it "Museum Social."

Miss Jennie Jones has been operated upon for acute appendicitis. She was taken sick Saturday, October 1st, and next day at three was operated upon. Thus far, she is out of danger and doing well.

Calvary Baptist Church will hold a social, Tuesday evening, October 25th. The program has not yet been announced.

Mr. Frank Berman, who was struck by an auto last April, is now about town. After a two months enforced rest, lying on his back all the time, he looks as hefty and as healthy as before, except for a slight limp in his right leg, which was broken in the accident.

JEN AND BOB.

Ultimately, what isn't good for all of us, isn't good for any of us.

THE Philadelphia Institution at Mt. Airy, will have its spacious and beautiful grounds beautified by the addition of a Gymnasium Building, to cost $140,000. It will be called Gilpin Hall, in honor of the late George Gilpin, who was a member of the Board of Directors for fifteen years, ten of which he served as Vice-President of the Board, from 1882 to 1897. The new building will also have an auditorium and rooms with facilities for domestic science classes. In design it will harmonize with the other buildings of the group that comprise the Mt. Airy Institution. The deaf of Pennsylvania are to be congratulated on this addition to the excellent facilities afforded for the complete education of the silent class.

THE Volta Review for October issues a "Special Federation Number" of nearly seven hundred pages, which deals entirely with the proceedings of the Eighth Annual Meeting of the American Federation of Organizations of the Hard of Hearing, at Chautauqua, N. Y., from June 26th to June 30th, 1927.

It shows that the "hard of hearing" are quite extensively organized and cover nearly every State of the Union. When it is realized that "there are over 3,000,000 children of school age and probably as many more adults with varying degrees of impaired hearing," it will be seen that a stupendous task is involved in the economy of the country and that their peculiar condition should command both national and local attention, if their handicap is to be lessened and their capabilities developed. The report of the proceedings seems to sanction a certain number of devices that aid the defective hearing, for there are listed no less than sixty-six devices. Of course no single device is adapted to all, no more than lenses of eyeglasses should all be the same. And, in this connection, the vanity, or the diffidence, of the individual is reproved by the statement that no one should be ashamed to use these devices to aid the hearing, any more than using eyeglasses to improve deficient eyesight.

One instance of apparent ignorance of the totally deaf is when the question: "What do you think of a proposition for the hard of hearing and deaf to sell anything from door to door?" The answer given is: "That is an employment question. My idea is that they should not do salesmanship. Our work concerns the deafened, not the deaf." Such a reply seems to insinuate that the deaf are something inferior and peddling is for them quite natural.

It would be a herculean task to review the proceedings as printed by the Volta Review. But those interested can obtain this special number by addressing that periodical at Washington, D. C. It costs a dollar, though the price of the regular monthly issue is still thirty cents, or three dollars a year.

SAMUEL FRANKENHEIM,

Treasurer.

18 West 107th Street,

New York City.

NOTICE.

President A. L. Roberts of the National Association of the Deaf has appointed the following gentlemen to the De l'Epee Statue Committee, namely:—

Charles J. LeClerc, San Francisco, Cal.,
Secretary.

Harrison M. Leiter, Chicago, Ill.
Andrew J. Sullivan, Jackson, Miss.
Vincent Dunn, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The new members are well placed in the country and it is to be hoped because of
each one's prominence in his home territory
the Statue Fund would be greatly increased.
For we are anxious to push the worthy
project to set up an enduring monument
to the genius and philanthropy of the great French teacher, De l'Epee, to a successful
end as quickly as possible.

In an incredibly brief time, millions of dollars had been already appropriated for
the erection of memorials and statues to those who fell in the great World War, as a matter of gratitude to them who upheld
the ideals of the country they happened to fight for.

Whereas, we are in the full enjoyment of education with its ever-always employment
of brain and brawn as an ally. This is the only true uplift of our lives. Still, the deaf
have not yet shown their gratitude to De l'Epee for his noble sacrifice. There are heroes in peace as well as in war. Do your duty! Please chip in, no matter, how small,
as soon as possible.

SAMUEL FRANKENHEIM,

Chairman-Treasurer.

FLORIDA

"The pale, purple even Melts around thy flight..."

Colonel Lindbergh is modestly
personified. From noon till midnight Tuesday, October 11th, the day was given up to paying tribute to the trans-oceanic pathfinder in
the way of speeches, parade, banquet,
presents, and what not. During the celebration which took place at Jacksonville, the noted young aviator
was modest throughout. As Dr.
Frank Crane says: "As far as we know, he has made no enemies, for
the one thing that makes an enemy is overweening egotism." Before the parade was over, the drill by a deaf group of boys in the air hero's
honor was a great thrill and drew
great applause. Of the drill
itself, the Jacksonville Times-Union
has the following to say:

"It was a wonderful sight when a large group of pupils of the State school for the Deaf and the Blind appeared on the field and went through a fancy drill. The boys were dressed in Ponce de Leon costumes in gay color and gave an exhibition of uniformity that was astonishing. Unable to hear the applause of the audience which cheered loudly as they walked from the field, the throngs seemed to sense the situation and rose from their seats and to show their appreciation they waved handkerchiefs and hats into the air."

C. H. Cory, Jr., has become a substantial citizen of St. Petersburg, Florida, judging from a recent
photograph of his handsome home
there, which he kindly set us. St.
Petersburg had a civic improvement
campaign the past summer, and the improvement committee included
Mr. Cory's name in the list of "honorary mention."

Mr. C. Ridler, of Kalamazoo,
Mich., worked a few months in St. Petersburg, Florida, and was a frequent visitor to the home of
Chas. H. Cory there. Mr. Ridler,
with his wife and baby, traveled
from place to place in the southern states in his Chevrolet touring car
—Ohio Chronicle.

Dr. A. H. Walker, President of the State School for the Deaf and Blind, has singled Philip Holdren
out of a number of prospective
officeholders to be in charge of a bakery. Mr. Holdren is a Buckeye product. According to the Grapesnuts, there's a reason.

R. R. Herron, of Lakeland, is considered one of the best and most experienced doctors in charge of a watch and clock hospital. Many a wretched timepiece has been ambulated to him and inside of a few days it went out looking as good
as new. For a number of years Mr.
Herron was an official timekeeper
for the Atlantic Coast Line, and while no longer connected with the corporation in that capacity, many
of the conductors and railway employees continue, as heretofore, to have their watches timed at his place of business.

Like a chip of the old block, Walter Dean is a hunter and fisherman of many years' standing. He and his father make periodical hunts for
feathered, furred and scaly game,
and invariably come home well supplied for theirarder. Their home
is in Auburndale.

Gib Palmer, of Lakeland, is employed in one of the large cigar
factories in Tampa. He is no novice
in the art of rolling cigars, having worked at the trade ever since he was in his teens.

Mrs. Henry Deavers, of Dayton,
O., who spent four months last year in California, is now touring
in Florida this winter, with a view
to making comparisons between
these nationally known ocean resorts. Being desirous of seeking more countries to conquer, her wish
is gratified by her trip into this states. Having an aptitude for observing conditions and resources at close range, she expressed amazement at the absence of mountain
scenery, but much delight in noting that Nature has favored Florida with an unsurpassed year-round
climate, something California can never boast of. Mrs. Deavers is enjoying every minute of her visit in the land of sunshine, and during her stay in the state she will be the guest of their friends, Mr. and Mrs.
Harley E. Goetz, whose home is in Miami. She spent over Friday night, October 7th, in St. Cloud, enroute from St. Petersburg to the Magic City.

The Florida Mission for the Deaf
has revised its monthly service
schedule and will conduct a service
at Lakeland on November 6th, at the First Methodist Church, concluding the second and last part of the sermon on the Feast of Belshaz-
zar, that was preached in Auburndale
on October the second.

Unable to overcome the lure of joy-riding, W. H. Alexander, of Orlando, has purchased a flivver
and will now step on the gas every evening, taking his family and friends for an outing.

So far as has been ascertained, no
student from Florida is enrolled this year at the Gallaudet College. Miss Marjorie Egle, of Arcadia, who attended this institution of higher education last year, will not return
this fall.

A new trade—that of painting—is being taught at the Tennessee school
for the deaf. Charles W. Kessler,
of Miami and Chicago, is the instructor. By the way, Mrs. Kessler has been engaged again to teach in that school for another term. Mr.

Kessler is a painter of many years'
experience, and that his students
will make good in this line of work
under his supervision there is no
hesitancy in saying.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Herron were vacationizing the latter part of September, sightseeing along the East Coast and as far northwest as Pensacola. They were absent over a week before they returned home to Lakeland, fatigued in body but refreshed in mind.

Miss Mary Jim Crump, accompanied by her mother, returned to Winter Haven last month, from a three months' visit in several of the Southern states.

Miss Ruby Padgett, of St. Cloud,
who has been quite sick, being threatened with gallstones, is reported to continue making favorable
progress. She is a popular young lady in that city.

Miss Bessie Ward, who was educated at the St. Augustine school, is living in Lake Wales. She enjoyed meeting her many friends at the Auburndale service.

Ira Bitler is employed at the J. M.
Griffin lumber mill in Holopaw and has been a steady worker since he lost his position at Miami at the time
of the hurricane.

Commenting on the sermon and
song service, the following article
by the Auburndale News of October 7th is reproduced below:

"One of the most solemn services
ever witnessed in Auburndale was the one at the Methodist Church
last Sunday afternoon, when Frank E. Philpott, superintendent of the Florida Mission for the Deaf, delivered a sermon, 'Belshazzar's Feast,' in the sign language to the deaf. Solos, duets and trios, also,
were delivered in the same manner.
Mr. Philpott's charming daughter
acting as interpreter in the song service only. 'Nearer, My God, To Thee,' 'Throw Out the Life Line,'
and 'The Old Rugged Cross' were
all quite interesting even to those in the congregation who could not understand the sign language of the preacher.

"Nearly thirty deaf people from various neighboring cities were present and all enjoyed a pleasant
social hour after the benediction,
and it was quiet interesting to watch
these silent people with a smile of happiness on every face, chatting
and laughing with each other, and we were brought all the more face
to face with the fact that after all
happiness is merely a matter of making the best of whatever condition
we are thrown in. Truly was it evident that even these people were enjoying life and showed expressions
of more real pleasure than many people not thus handicapped. Mr.
Philpott has headquarters at St.
Cloud and we trust that he and his happy band of silent listeners will let us have the pleasure of another
one of their most interesting services."

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Austin spent Sunday evening, October 9th, with the writer and his family before returning to Orlando. Mrs. Austin entertained the company with silent
music in an inimitable manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley E. Goetz
stopped over Friday night, October 7 th, in St. Cloud with their Buckeye
friends and left early Saturday morning for their home in Miami. They had been visiting with friends in St.
Petersburg the past two weeks.

Being desirous of constantly adding new equipment to his business,
R. W. Davis, proprietor of the St. Cloud Dry Cleaners, is leaving no stone unturned to make his establishment one of the leading industries in Central Florida. Mr. Davis
has been in the tailoring and dry
cleaning business for many years.
His slogan is "Through Service
We Grow."

A recent automobile drive to the county farm, between St. Cloud and Kissimmee, found Nicholas Murphy
one of the most cheerful and contented guests. He has made himself useful on the farm, assisting the superintendent in more ways than
one. When the business boom
finally supersedes the real estate
boom, which collapsed throwing a large army of breadwinners out of employment, it will not be a long time before Mr. Murphy places
himself again on a payroll.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley E. Goetz
have been dined and "wined" the past few nights last month, their several friends tendering them a farewell party by turns. They left Sunday morning for St. Petersburg
for a two weeks' visit with friends
before returning to Miami. During the period of his employment with St. Cloud Dry Cleaners, Mr. Goetz
has proved himself an efficient
presser, incorporating new ideas
into Mr. Davis' business that he acquired in larger cities. It is to be hoped that at a later date the services of Mr. Goetz will be re-enlisted.

Walter Dean, of Auburndale, is an ardent devotee of motorcycling,
and when off duty he delights himself in making long trips to points
of interest in the states.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert C. Worthman,
who have been visiting with their
married daughter in Stuart the past few months, will shortly move to Tampa. Just what vocation Mr.
Worthman is to pursue has not been

learned, but it is understood that he will go into business that will not be detrimental to his health.

R. W. Davis is the sole possessor of a Ford roadster, and in the course
of a few weeks he will have it converted into a clothes delivery truck.
His many customers appreciate the efforts of Mr. Davis to serve them
by calling for and delivering their work. He owns one of the largest dry-cleaning plants in Osceola county at St. Cloud.

October the first was Raymond V.
Sapp's moving day in St. Cloud.
Finding that stair climbing does not prove a pleasurable stunt, he and his family moved to their former
place of residence, where horizontal, instead of vertical, walking is a real delight.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pollock, of Homestead, are spending the summer vacation in Crozet, Virginia, as has been their practice, stopping
en route at Richmond, Va., Durham,
N. C., Columbia, S. C., and Augusta, Ga. Mr. Pollock will resume
his position with a large packing
house in Homestead during the tomato season.

From the Frat we glean that W.
H. Mills, a member of that fraternity,
is the proud father of a bouncing boy
baby, born June 22d. Mr. Mills is a prominent business man in Archer,
near Gainesville.

Miss Gracie R. Davis, who lives
with her sister, Mrs. Frank E.
Philpott in St. Cloud, is an ardent advocate of landscape beautification.

Gussie Bass is at present employed in paving the lake boulevard at St. Cloud. He is a versatile Jack
of all trades, being able to respond
to any kind of work on short notice.

Word has been received from Sylvester C. Benedict, who, with his family, is summing at Godefroy, N. C., that he will re-occupy his winter home in Orlando before the 1st of December.

Mrs. Harry (Wooley) Hecht, of Coral Gables, daughter of deaf parents, is frequently seen at social and religious gatherings, where her services as interpreter may be employed. Before coming to Florida, she lived in or near Cincinnati, Ohio.

Taking advantage of the business
depression in the Tampa Times office
where he is employed as an adman, Wm. V. Hovious is taking lesson on the linotype machine, with a view to becoming an operator.

Of the five deaf passengers whose car overturned near Hawthorne, as they were en route to Silver Springs
on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9. Mrs.
A. W. Pope, of St. Augustine was the most seriously injured, having suffered a fractured rib. She was immediately taken to the Marion General hospital at Ocala.

DETROIT.

October 29th, Annual Old Witch
and Hallowe'en dance at the Detroit Fraternal Club, 2254 Vermont Avenue.

October 29th, Hallowe'en dance at Armory Hall by the D. A. D. Good music.

November 12th, Prize Masquerade
Ball by the M. A. D.

November 17-18th, Bazaar by the Ladies of St. John's Epiphany Mission
at the Detroit Fraternal Club.

Mr. F. Thornley left for Buffalo today, by auto for a few days' visit.

Mr. Domenico De Fagio gave one of the most interesting talks, lasting over three hours, at the D. A. D., Saturday evening, about his visit to Rome, Naples, Venice, Paris and other places
near there. He showed some Italian costumes and other interesting curios.

Less than three months after the death of his wife, Frederick Charles Newcome, a noted botanist and authority on plant physiology, died October second, at the age of sixty-nine.
Mr. Newcome was born in Flint,
Mich., and taught at the University of Michigan for many years. He was well known among the deaf. Grief
over the loss of his wife hastened his demise.

A large crowd turned out at St.
John's, Friday evening, to see the old witch. She was collecting money for the Christmas Fund. Several good games were played and a good time
enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Jones are again
living in Detroit. They may be found at 345 Pilgrim Avenue.

Fenkell Avenue residents are rejoicing. Street car tracks are being laid. Buses are surely a nuisance.

Mrs. Ben Dahm underwent a serious operation at Harper Hospital for an injury received in bumping against a chair.

Mrs. W. K. Liddy, of Windsor, has returned home after a two months'
visit with friends and relatives.

She spent one month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gabel,
at Hanlan's Point, Centre Island, Toron-
to, where her parents own a summer
cottage. Two weeks at Port Elgin,
where her sister, Mrs. E. S. Buehner,
have a summer home, and took in the Canadian National Exposition, Toron-
to, and ended with a couple of weeks
in her old home town, Kitchener, Ontario.

The Detroit Fraternal Club held a big crowd, October 8th, the occasion
being the first anniversary of the club.

When Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holmes
and their two and on half years old son were returning to their home, near Lansing from Florida, their automobile was struck by a passenger train at Greenwich, Va. The little son was instantly killed and the parents seriously hurt.

MRS. WM. BEHRENDT.

CHICAGO.

There will be a big football game between the State institutions of Illinois and Wisconsin at Delavan, Wis., October 22d. Some of the Alumni of each institution residing
in Chicago will attend the game.
It should be a thrilling and hard-fought game. Last year they played at Jacksonville, Ill. The Illinois defeated the Wisconsin team by a score of 18 to 0, but the badgers the same year secured a 39 to 0 victory
over the Hoosiers.

Also on October 22d, the Smoker party of Chicago Div. No. 1
and Div. No. 106 of N. F. S. D. will be held at the Silent Athletic Club.
The officers and committee have prepared a good program for the occasion.

On October 15th, a "500" and Bunco party was given for the benefit of the "S. A. C." The attendance was quite large. On the same date a good movie show was shown
at the Pas-a-Pas Club. The writer
does not know the title of the picture, being unable to attend.

Mr. Louis Massinkoff retired from his position with the Goodyear Tire
Co., of Akron, Ohio, and returned home to Chicago, September 18th,
to reside with his parents. He is seeking a position somewhere in this city.

September 21st, Mr. and Mrs.
Fred Wondrack, of Cincinnati, Ohio,
made a trip to Chicago, where Mr.
Wondrack witnessed the Dempsey-
Tunney bout at the Soldiers' Stadium, September 22d.

September 24th, a Bunco party
was given by the Wishbone Athletic Club at the Capital Building.
There was a large attendance. Mr.
Fred Wondrack, of Cincinnati,
Ohio, won a floor lamp in a raffle.

We will have a Hallowe'en
party at the "Soo," October 29th.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harding will have charge of the party. Hope
there will be a large crowd and help to make it the success, which
our parties always are.

Mr. Clousner, who has spent a few weeks with his parents in New York City, has returned to this city
and resumed working at his trade
of furrier.

Miss Ethel Mandel of South Bend, Ind., secured a position at the Curtiss shoe factory last month,
but October 15th she was laid off.
She returned home to South Bend,
Ind., October 16th.

Miss Gladys Hedrick, of Indianapolis, Ind., who had been working at the Curtiss shoe factory for the past year, was joined in marriage to Mr. Ralph Miller, of Chicago, on October 15th. Mr. R. Miller graduated from the Illinois School for the Deaf in 1925, and Mrs.
Miller, graduated from the Indiana School for the Deaf in 1925.
We are very glad to extend our congratulations and good wishes to them.

Miss Mabel Nelson from St. Paul, Minn., has been employed at the Auditorium Hotel for the past month
and a half.

Two sisters, the Misses Reid of Duluth, Minn., have been employed
at the Congress Hotel for the past four months.

Mr. and Mrs. Megham, of Los Angeles, Cal., are now residing in Chicago. Mr. Megham has a position here.

Mr. Selig moved here from San Francisco, Cal., last July. He has a position as a clerk.

OHIO.

News items for this column can be sent to B. M. Edgar, 56 Latta Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

The school machinery set in motion October 12th has been running so smoothly that folks hardly realize that there had been any delay in opening. The new heating plant, while still in charge of the contractor and workmen, is giving satisfaction.

All the teachers and most of the pupils reported for duty on time. Principal Abernathy has tried to add more dignity to himself by appearing with a surprise collegiate mustache adorning his lip.

Miss Catherine Toskey had an enjoyable two weeks visit in September as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kane, of Maumee, and then wandered up into Detroit to find her friend Mrs. Max Crittenden, with whom she spent two days.

Mrs. George Clum, whom we reported last week as being on the sick list, is still confined to her bed. A host of friends are inquiring daily as to her condition. Suffering with anemia, progress will be slow.

Mr. C. Nuener has found visiting much safer than hunting and is now advertising his trusty gun for sale. For many years Mr. Nuener has been employed in the office at Greenlawn Cemetery and did little going; but this summer has found him making weekly jaunts with friends to the hills in southern Ohio. His latest trip was to Sugar-tree Ridge and to Ripley on the Ohio River. Here he was shown where slaves, escaping across the Ohio River, hid in the cubby holes in the surrounding hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Vogelhund, Hillsboro, entertained a crowd of twenty-four deaf visitors last Sunday, and Mrs. Vogelhund was equal to the occasion in setting a bountiful feast before all. It seems their farm is getting to be quite a rendezvous for deaf motorist nearing Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Goeltz (Mary Jones), of Sandusky, are the proud parents of a seven-pound little son, born to them October 13th. As this is the first grandchild in the Jones family, there was no doubt great rejoicing at their home in Akron. Of course, the child was named for his daddy.

We learned also that Mr. and Mrs. J. Wenstrup (Lizzie Overwater) of Cincinnati had a visit from the stork September 29, leaving them a lovely little daughter who has been christened Julia May.

At the St. Rita School in Cincinnati, some prominent deaf were entertained by Father Waldrus to meet Sister M. Rita. Those invited were Dr. Clancey, Mrs. William Hoy, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Wagner, Misses Clara Hackman and Krenzmann.

DAYTON.

The Dayton Ladies' Aid Society, want to soon refurbish the Dayton room at the Home, and are working to raise funds for that purpose. Their first entertainment will be a box social the third Saturday in November.

October 16th, found Mr. and Mrs. Henry Munday in Springfield visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Pershing. The latter is slowly recovering from a serious illness.

N. F. S. D. Number Eight had a masquerade social October 15th. A good crowd turned out, but only a few came masked; but prizes were given as promised. For the ugliest outfit Mrs. Kitcher as an old negress and Mrs. Hartly as a tramp took the prizes. Miss Bowser won the prize for the loveliest costume, with Miss Niedent as second. Miss Bowser represented a butterfly—a thing she could do to perfection. Out-of-town visitors came from Columbus, Toledo, Detroit, Cincinnati and other towns.

Mr. Frank Corey, a native of Kentucky, while in Dayton a short time ago met a former classmate, Miss Bessie Allen, and they decided to be married. A few friends witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Corey is employed in the Goodyear factory and the couple left for Akron, their future home, with the best wishes of many friends.

Mrs. Edson Ruth, of Athens, whose husband met a tragic death recently, has gone to Zaneville, to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Stewart Bell.

Mrs. Ethel McGhee, widow of Charles McGhee, is now living in Louisville, Ohio, having given up her home in Kensington.

The Ohio friends of Mr. Victor J. Knauss, Cleveland, were glad to learn that he has been appointed teacher and instructor of printing in the Mississippi School, to take the place of Mr. Tracy. Mr. Knauss is a graduate of the Ohio School and Gallaudet and has had experience in commercial printing in his home town and is well prepared for his new position. Somehow Ohio deaf folks get located all over the country and seem to hold their own. We learned that Mr. N. R. McGrew, a product Ohio School, is considered to be the oldest deaf man in the state of Iowa. Next month he will be 78 years old and still spends his time in such active work as cutting down trees. Surely strenuous work for one of his age.

The following is from the Ohio Chronicle editorial page:

A WONDERFUL YOUNG MAN.

Herman Cahen, twenty-three years of age, a deaf man, is a pupil in the Ohio State University. He came up through the Day School in Cleveland and through the hearing high school. He is taking a course in Mechanical Engineering. This is one of the hard courses in the University.

He is five feet eleven inches tall, weighs one hundred and seventy-five pounds and is well proportioned. He is a full blooded Jew with a great mind.

His father and mother are smart people. They were in Poland and came to this country twenty-four years ago. Neither ever attended a school a day. But the father has educated himself as Abraham Lincoln did, so the son says.

The father reads everything, and appropriates all he reads. He has developed a great business in book binding and owns the largest book binding establishment in Ohio. He has two hundred employees in his factory and binds twenty thousand books a day.

Young Cahen is a Freshman in the University and an aspirant for the foot ball team. He says, however, he has not yet been tried out, but hopes to have a chance before the season is over. He says it is not size altogether that makes a successful football player, but the brain, the eye, the nerve and the courage. He thinks he has all these and we think so too.

The Chronicle wishes this ambitious young man every success in his good endeavor.

He says he watches the lectures, gets the main points, goes to the library and gets the books and reads for himself.

SEATTLE

Mrs. O'Neil, of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Root accompanied the Wrights to Lake Cushman for a three and one-half hours' ride up beautiful Hood's Canal, after crossing the sound on a ferry. The visit to the Tacoma electric power house in the gorge, reached by an inclined elevator, was delightful. Mr. Root called attention to the several drowns (Roots (tree) in the vast man created Lake.

The chicken dinner at the inn they found was well cooked and fit for the President of the U. S. Returning home they had to wait two hours at the beach for the next trip of the ferry, as a long line of autos was ahead.

Mrs. O'Neil is such a charming lady as well as an interesting talker. She is starting to fall in love with Seattle, but her married daughter and married son and her four grandchildren in Milwaukee, Wis., are always in her memory.

Jack Bertram, by invitation, went with his hearing friends in an auto to Vancouver, British Columbia, and bowled in a new alley. The floor and pins were somewhat different from the American style, but Mr. Bertram said he had lots of fun. He visited his old friend, Mr. William Reid, at the Reid Ham Packing House.

The first monthly luncheon for the Lutherans last September under Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Adams and Miss Bloomquist, was very pleasant, and the next one this month under Mrs. George W. Gaertner, Mrs. Reeves and Miss Kingdon, was so enjoyable that it was decided to keep it up for a few months. Each time after the meal, they played "500." There were four tables, with five people at each, and another table with checkers.

Mr. and Mrs. Claire Reeves and daughter, Alice, took dinner with Mrs. Violet Gillis in Kent one Sunday. Mrs. Gillis and her mother and had an hour's ride out in the country in their Star sedan.

Bert Haire's brother from North Carolina arrived in Seattle and made up his mind to make this city his home. He went to Victoria, British Columbia, a few days ago to transact some business. He is a good sign maker, to our surprise, because Bert is a semi mute.

Mrs. Edward Martin is back at her old position as a candler. Every evening she and her husband, in their car, call for their son, eight months old, at the Roy Harris' residence, a short distance from their home. Mrs. Harris says she just loves the darling's company.

The members of the Ladies' Aid were surprised when Mrs. Emily Eaton handed the treasurer, Mrs. Reeves, three dollars that she earned by making and selling a rug. She is a great help to the aid by her earnest endeavor to work for Christ. Claude Wood, not satisfied with his Wolverine, traded it for a Rio Brougham. He and his wife took Mrs. John Dorrero, Miss Laifah Freese and John Hood, to Vancouver, British Columbia, last Saturday. They returned home the next day.

For the past five months, Mr. Hockett has been working at the Puckett packing house as a nailer. John, thirteen years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bertram, has become greatly interested in aeroplaning. He is an intelligent chap.

Mr. Clark was in Mabton, his old home, looking after his business and before returning to Seattle, he went to Montana, where he did quite a bit of fishing. He says trout are pretty plentiful there.

This week Mrs. Victoria Smith acted as the hostess at the Thursday card party at the Lutheran Church hall, with twenty-seven in attendance.

In spite of her age, Mrs. Smith is full of life.

Mrs. Sallie Clark, after two months of living with the Ziegler family, has taken a small apartment and has been sewing. She will not renew her contract with some of the department stores, saying doing fancy work is not profitable at all.

Roy Harris, who is an old hunter, went to Preston to hunt deer for a couple days, when it was pouring almost steadily. There was nothing in sight, but having so much grit, he will go again early next month.

John Brinkman is at the apple harvest work in Wenatchee and his wife is sewing on gowns at the Rhode department store. The work is nice and pleasant, though the pay depends on the number of pieces turned out.

Prof. and Mrs. W. S. Hunter and son, Billy, motored to Lake Crescent and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Will Chambers, at their summer home on the shore of Lake Sutherland, for some time last August. We wonder why they failed to see us.

Mr. Robert C. Miller arrived in North Carolina after a year of travel on the coast and other states. He found his family well. He wrote of such an exciting adventure in Mexico that we would like to know all the details. Thank you, Mr. Miller, for the spot in your heart, concerning your Seattle friends.

At Mrs. John Bodley's lovely residence, ten ladies gathered for a nice luncheon last Thursday. Mrs. Jack Bertram, a great lover of babies, watched and admired Mrs. Cookson's baby girl making friends with the Matrons' boy. Mrs. O'Neil was among the guests.

The other evening Rev. Geo. W. Gaertner saw a man lying, soaking wet, on the sidewalk by our Lutheran church. Being dead drunk, he told our young minister to shut the water off as it was pouring on him. Instead of calling a cop, he hunted the man's address in his pocket, and with the help of his brother-in-law placed him in his car and took him home.

FANWOOD.

The military drill was begun in the yard last Friday morning. Major Van Tassel named some new officers for the battalion and also for the band. Below are the new officers:

Captain of Company A—Cadet Captain Herbert Carroll.

Captain of Company B—Cadet Lieutenant Perry Schwing.

Lieutenants of Company A and B—Cadets Nicholas Giordano and William Horn.

First Sergeants for Company A and B—Cadets Corporals Milton Koplowitz and Billy Rayner.

Color Sergeants—Cadets Abraham Cohen and Pietro LaBarca.

Sergeants of Company A—Cadets Ralph Ponnessa and Hyman Kalmanowitz.

Sergeant of Company B—Cadet Corporal Felix Kowalewski.

Lieutenants of Band—Cadet Sergeants Leo Port and Otto Johnson.

Drum Major—Cadet Corporal Allyn Manning.

Sergeant of Band—Harry Fein.

Corporals of Band—Cadets Ernest Marshall, Abraham Hirsom, Sam Forman and David Mahler.

The above new officers were chosen for trial only.

Thirty-one of our Catholic pupils were confirmed last Thursday, October 20th, at St. Rose of Lima Church on 165th Street. They were among a class of 450 hearing children and were instructed by Rev. John F. Nestor and Mrs. Grace Plourd, who is on the tutor staff of the Boys' Kindergarten. Through the generosity of Father Nestor and Mr. S. J. Fogarty, the confirmed pupils were treated to ice-cream, cake and candy.

The opening basketball game of the Elimination contests was played in the gymnasium last week. The game contested was between the team of "Billy," under the captaincy of William Horn, and "Otto," captained by Otto Johnson. "Billy" won by the score of 8 to 6. It was a hot game. Appended are the names and positions of the players.

Billy (8)	Otto (6)
Schwing	R.F.
Snowden	R.F.
Horne	C.
Fein	R.F.
Whiteman	L.G.

Substitutes: S. Kalmanowitz for Whiteman; Rayner for Manning. Field goals: Horne 1, Whiteman 1, Hirsom 1. Foul goals: Horne 2, Johnson 2, Hirsom 1, Koplowitz 1, Snowden 1, Fein 1. Referee: F. Lux, Scorer: A. Gangi, Timekeeper: D. Mahler.

Mr. Michael Hamra and Miss Marjorie Niles were pleasant visitors at the Institution on Monday last. They are both operators on the linotype and have steady work in New York.

REWARD

Twenty-five dollars will be paid, and positively no questions asked of the person returning a German silver watch, swiss movement, chain and a National Fraternal Society of the Deaf watch fob, taken from my bed room during my wife's funeral, on Sunday, October 2d, 1927.

The watch fob was a present to me by the Brooklyn Division, No. 23, during my Presidency in 1923, Lincoln C. Schindler, 1676 Woodbine St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

PHILADELPHIA

Saturday, October 22d, held so many attractive events for the deaf of Philadelphia that everybody had difficulty in deciding just how to spend the day. The Mt Airy football team was scheduled to play the New Jersey boys, for one thing. The Gallaudet men were likewise slated to meet the Temple University team. And with these attractive events on the same day, and at the same time, of course, the peerless Lindberg had to arrive in Philadelphia in his now famous plane.

The result was that the deaf were about equally divided among these events, from an attendance standpoint.

Mt. Airy of course beat Trenton in a decisive victory, to the tune of 44 to 0. And no one was particularly surprised.

The Gallaudet boys suffered defeat at the hands of the unusually strong Temple University men. The score was 62 to 0. Even so, the Buff and Blue men acquitted themselves comparatively well, considering what Temple had done to some other rivals this season. They were undeniably outclassed. And right here it may be remarked that their defeat can be accounted for by the same old reason that so often sees a team of deaf boys meet defeat: they were contending with a University having an enrollment of 13,000 students! The Buff and Blue eleven had to be chosen out of a male student body of only 65 men! The wonder is not that they were defeated, but that the score was so comparatively favorable.

Philadelphians who are Gallaudetians can console themselves with the knowledge that Drexel Institute refused to meet the Buff and Blue team this year. Drexel is really in Gallaudet's class, but has met with consistent defeat at its hands. So it simply refused to play against Gallaudet. It is the same old story.

After the game, the Gallaudet team was entertained at supper at All Souls' Church for the Deaf, by invitation of the rector and Mr. Robert Fletcher. Mr. Fletcher is a student for the ministry, and was a former manager of the Gallaudet team. The visitors were shown the church and parish house, and appeared appreciative of its excellent facilities. After supper they were all invited to see Mr. Charles Waterhouse give his first public exhibition of amateur magic. A crowd of over two hundred deaf from Philadelphia, Trenton, Allentown, Wilmington, and other nearby places, was present. We all hope the Gallaudet men found their brief visit to Philadelphia a pleasant one, and they have the knowledge that our own local folks enjoyed their presence.

Much favorable comment was made of Mr. Waterhouse's ability as a magician. He undoubtedly surprised many by his unexpected skill. He promises to give another and wholly new performance in the near future, which will be looked forward to with pleasure. And say, didn't the kiddies have a rousing good time! They became so hilariously enthusiastic that they rushed the stage time and time again. Here is hoping the Waterhouses will favor us all again soon.

The recent meeting of the Board of Managers of the P. S. A. D. voted to hold the next convention at Pittsburgh next year. The date remains to be decided upon however. We notice the promise of the Pittsburgh correspondent of the JOURNAL to "put the thing over big." Amen, brother! We hereby go on record with a promise to help make it one grand big affair. Philadelphians unanimously concede that Pittsburgh is able to do it.

It will interest the deaf in general to learn that the mortgage on the Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf at Torresdale, which was initially the sum of $45,000.00 only two years ago, has now been reduced by subsequent payments until it amounts at present to only $4000.00. This is a remarkable achievement for which Philadelphia, in company with all the State of Pennsylvania, feels justifiably proud. Our State association assuredly need feel second to none.

A Halloween Entertainment is announced for Saturday, October 29th, at All Souls' Church. Prizes of five dollars each are to be given for the cleverest and most comical costumes. A good attendance is looked forward to, as the admission charge is only twenty-five cents, with children admitted free.

The Rev. O. J. Whildin of Baltimore, and the Rev. H. Lorraine Tracy of Washington, D. C., were the guests of Rev. Mr. Smaltz, on October 24th.

Mrs. Emma J. Dantzer left on the 23d for a brief visit to Buffalo, N. Y., and nearby points. She had returned to Philadelphia recently from her summer home at Wildwood, N. J.

PHILADELPHIA'S BAL MASQUE.

When November rolls around, its first Saturday is a red letter day on the social calendar of the local Deaf in more ways than one. Its chief event is that gay and colorful Grand

Annual Bal Masque, which as usual has been in the past, holds sway at the Turngemeinde Hall on North Broad Street at the intersection of Columbia Avenue and under the directing management of the Silent Athletic Club.

The Committee in charge of this year's affair expects a record breaker.

Inasmuch as the affair has all the essences befitting a "Bohemian Night" or "Greenwich Village" revelry, there is no need to elaborate upon what a function of its kind is like.

The day, generally, begins with various formal or informal luncheons preceding the football game at Mt. Airy, when the crowds foregather to witness the Pennsylvania Institute Deaf and Brown Prep School clash at 2:30 p.m. The grounds are reached by street cars from the center of the city on 11th Street—take any Route 23 cars marked Mt. Airy or Chestnut Hill. Then there is the Penn-Harvard game in another part of the city to add to a day of joy and contentment in Philly. Following the games, before or after the Bal Masque there are rounds of dining parties. Members of the Silent Athletic Club are ever courteous to direct visitors to the city, as how to reach the ball room from Mt. Airy.

If it be for but a day's sojourn in Philadelphia, here are the last trains leaving after the ball for the following points:

Pennsylvania Railroad for New York City, Newark and Trenton, 12:15 A.M. For Washington, Baltimore and Wilmington, 12:15 A.M. For Reading and Morristown, 11:37 p.m. For Lancaster and Harrisburg, 11:45 p.m.

Reading Railroad; For New York and Newark, 1:07 A.M. For Trenton, 11:30 p.m. For Atlantic City, 11:40 p.m. For Allentown and Bethlehem, 12:50 A.M. For Reading, Shamokin and Pottsville, 11:30 p.m.

NEW YORK.

DEAF MUTES' UNION LEAGUE

On Thursday evening, October 13th, the Deaf Mutes' Union League held its monthly business meeting, over one hundred and thirty were present.

After routine business, President Kenner appointed an inspector and four tellers to conduct the nomination for new officers, which will be held in December, and installed at the January meeting. The result is as follows:—

For President—Marcus L. Kenner vs. Francis W. Nubser.

For First Vice-President—Benjamin Mintz vs. Joseph Worzel.

For Second Vice-President—Ludwig Fisher vs. Charles Sussman.

For Secretary—Jack Ebin vs. Nathan Schwartz.

For Treasurer—Samuel Lowenherz.

The committee of the American Society of the Deaf Artists have been busy arranging the program for the unveiling of the memorial oil portrait of Dr. Thomas H. Gallaudet, the founder of the first school for the deaf in America, and have decided to hold the ceremony in the chapel of Fanwood on the afternoon of December 10th, at 3 o'clock sharp. Miss Virginia Gallaudet has accepted the request to unveil the portrait of her grandfather on the occasion of his birthday. The society would appreciate your presence at the unveiling and your interest in this worthy cause.

Next Saturday, October 29th, 1927, the gridiron warriors of Gallaudet College will be here in our midst. They come to battle at the Lewisohn Stadium, 138 Street and Amsterdam Avenue, with the City College of New York gridders.

The students and co-eds of Gallaudet in former years who reside in New York, and also a good many deaf people of the city, will be there to root for G-A-L-L-A-U-D-E-T.

The Hebrew Association of the deaf held a Halloween party at one of the large rooms of the Park and Tilford Building on Saturday evening, October 22d. About one hundred and fifty were present, and enjoyed the games and had a good time generally.

The Gerald Dlugatchs, after a short honeymoon at Atlantic City, have decided to make their permanent abode at Richmond Hill, L. I., where they will be glad to see their friends.

The Sam L. Greenbergs too have decided that Brooklyn is a more desirable place to live in, and have moved there.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison now call Woodside, L. I., their home, having recently moved there from Manhattan.

Last week Mrs. Samuel Bramson had to spend two days at the Community Hospital, 150th Street and St. Nicholas Avenue, to undergo an operation in her nose.

Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Koprinetz have moved over to the city of churches from Manhattan.

Mrs. Martin Glynn is enjoying a month's stay at the picturesque and quaint old town of Quincy, Mass.

The Capital City.

Our trip by auto to and Michigan and return via the Canadian route was wonderful.

It was glorious September morning. The air was crisp and bracing when we left Detroit, my sweetheart. Sun broke through day clouds and our auto (Essex) was in perfect condition.

Wito the A. A. Blue Book all questions and answered. It gave distances, conditions, location of roads clearly. Our joy in motoring depended upon the good highway.

Spent two days and one night in Canada. This was my first view of Canada and it impressed me beyond words. Many long, lean, lanky streets, the earth, sky and air, it seems were golden everywhere. It is wonderful to see the corn stood yellow in all the land, and the ripe apple dropped to the harvest-moon. Huge dahlias, towering to a height of ten feet and from six to ten inches in width, were the chief attractive along the route. A majority of homes and stores were old wooden structures where old women worked around.

The first town we entered into Canada was Sarnia. In this little town no colored people are found. Stayed over night in Hamilton, which was the most beautiful city we saw in Canada. The Royal Hotel is an old landmark of Hamilton, where Detroit's Pansy, Mrs. G. E. M. Nelson, was born, although she has lived all her life in the United States. Hamilton is the home of wealthy families, old stone buildings and mansions. Guelph is a lovely place. The Prison Farm of the Province of Ontario is located there. It is kept in beautiful condition by the convicts.

Passed through Marion, Ohio, the home of ex-President Harding. Fine paved streets with handsome mansions and shady trees. Viewed the partially completed Harding Memorial and it, no doubt, will be one of the most beautiful memorials in the world. Stayed over night in Elmira, N. Y. A quaint old-fashioned town, the birth place of Mark Twain. It has an old Court House, which is most striking in appearance.

Niagara Falls was terribly crowded with autos, tourists with Kodaks, and it was hard for us to get a good glimpse of the falling waters. A friend in Buffalo gave me these news items for the JOURNAL.

NEWS ITEMS.

On October 2d, the Rev. Herbert C. Merrill held an interesting service for the deaf at the Church House in Buffalo, located on North Street near Elmwood Ave. This property was formerly a private residence which at the death of the owner left it by WILL to the Protestant Episcopal Church of Buffalo. The Bishop had the interior remodelled and rooms fitted up for uses of the Church.

Among the improvements made to the interior is a neat Chapel which has been placed at the disposal of Rev. Mr. Merrill for the deaf of his Mission in Buffalo.

Mrs. G. E. M. Nelson of Detroit, who was present at this service, assisted the Rev. Mr. Merrill by signing a hymn and also speaking in the interest of the established of a Guild at the wishes of Rev. Mr. Merrill.

Mrs. James Henderson of Detroit spent two pleasant months visiting her sister Mrs. Elizabeth Toellner of Angola during July and August.

Mrs. Elizabeth Toellner of Angola has been kept rather busy all summer entertaining friends and her sister Mrs. Henderson.

Angola is a very pretty village and pleasant to while away the summer months getting fine breezes from Lake Erie.

Most of the wealthy Buffalo residents flock to Angola during the hot summer days. It has a population about 3000.

The Rev. Mr. Herbert C. Merrill recently made a pleasant call upon Mrs. Toellner and Mrs. Nelson. Both ladies enjoyed his visit very much.

Mr. Walter Carl, formerly of Detroit, is doing well at Fischer Body in Buffalo. He is at present Secretary of the Buffalo Frat division.

Miss Kinn, a bright young lady of Angola, N. Y., is now working at some Envelope Company in Buffalo. She is a graduate of the Rochester school for the deaf.

Mr. Harry Pfanz, of Angola, had for many years been working as a grocery delivery man in Angola. He has also been in the United States Mail service at Angola for more than six years. This speaks well for him. He is a pleasant person to meet.

Mrs. R. H. MacLachlan has canned 199 pints of fruits and relishes, and she was going to make different jellies this month, saying "Life is a school until we die."

We spent a week with my daughter, Mrs. Heide (Violet). They live at Don Juan apartment on 141 Holcomb, cor. Jefferson.

Rev. Mr. H. Lorraine Tracy's services at St. Mark's Episcopal church, Sunday afternoon, October 16th, was interesting and instructive. His theme was "changing the mind." At 5 o'clock he gave a lecture at Gallaudet College upon invitation of the students.

While he was in Charlotte, N. C., our pastor married a young couple in the presence of a number of the friends of the couple, who are Mr. Elmer Gallimore and Miss Effie Rogers, both residents of the above named city.

Mr. Howard Tracy Hofstater, a junior at Gallaudet College, has been secured to act as layreader under the Rev. Mr. H. Lorraine Tracy, missionary to the deaf in the District of Columbia. Commencing in November Mr. Hofstater will fill the pulpit when Mr. Tracy is absent from the city. Mr. Hofstater is Gallaudet College correspondent for the JOURNAL.

A "500" and bridge card party for the benefit of the Mississippi flood sufferers was held at the Masonic Temple, 8th and F Street, N. E. Saturday evening, October 15th, about twenty-five deaf attended. It will be held again at the above hall in the night of November 19th.

The Rev. Mr. H. L. Tracy was at the meeting of the Synod of the Third Province in Roanoke, Va., October 10th to 18th.

The long and wide smile of our genial friend Roy Stewart was seen. The cause—the letter "S" was left out of "Mrs." Roy Stewart in my last week's letter to the JOURNAL as vice-president of the "Lit" of Washington, D. C.

The Silent News Letter, official organ of the Conference of Church workers among the deaf in the United States has been changed to the Silent Missionary.

The business meeting of St. Barnabas Mission, of which H. S. Edington is president, will hold its first meeting at the hall of St. Mark's Church on A and Third, S. E., Wednesday evening, November 9th. Every member is earnestly requested to be present as important business transactions will be made. New officers will be elected.

The Rev. Mr. H. L. Tracy, missionary of this city, has accepted an appointment, October first, as treasurer of the Executive Committee of the Conference of Church workers among the deaf, to fill out the unexpired term of the Rev. Mr. Collins S. Sawhill, missionary of Cleveland, O., who has resigned on account of his being unable to be present at the meetings.

Mrs. Frank A. Adams is a happy grandmother now. The little Miss who graced the world last Labor Day is very bright and pretty.

St. Barnabas Society will have a social at the hall of St. Mark's church on the night of November 2d. Every body is welcome. Bring your friends and sweethearts. Refreshments will be served.

Rev. Mr. Herbert Merrill, of Syracuse, N. Y., has accepted the invitation of Rev. Mr. Tracy to preach at St. Mark's Episcopal Church at A and Third, S. E. Sunday afternoon, October 30th. Come one, come all to hear him.

Helen Keller, deaf and blind, was the guest of honor at a meeting of the Washington Lions Club, Wednesday night, October 19th, in the Memorial Continental Hall. The 1700 seats were taken and the hall was crowded to hear Miss Keller. The International president of the Lions Club gave an outline of the work being accomplished by Lion International for the Blind.

Gallaudet boys put up a hard fight but fell before the attack of Albright College gridders by the score of 29 to 7, at Myerstown, Pa., on Saturday afternoon, October 15th. Several deaf visitors witnessed the game and they said the deaf boys did fight real hard.

For the first time Winfred Marshall's aged mother attended Rev. Mr. Tracy's services, Sunday, October 16th. She was escorted by Mrs. Marshall. Mr. Marshall's aged father is about eighty and is not able to attend on account of his feebleness.

E. E. Maczkowski has returned home recently to resume his place at the Government Printing office. He spent three weeks of September in Michigan, visiting his sister in Alpena, one day with his college friends at Flint, visited the Michigan School for the Deaf. He also spent several days

"Soft peace she brings, wherever she arrives:
She builds our quiet, as she forms our lives:
Lays the rough paths of peevish Nature even
And opens in each heart a little Heaven."
—Prior, "Charity."
